Country Charm of Cheshire

Willington Hall is delightfully situated at the foot of the Willington hills and stands in 17 acres of formal gardens and parklands with wonderful views across the Cheshire countryside and further towards the Welsh mountains which make it an ideal setting for photographs. Willington Hall was built in 1929 as a private house for the Tomkinson Family. It was converted into a restaurant in 1977 and a little later into a hotel with 10 individually refurbished bedrooms retaining its period features and country house charm which provides a superb setting for the most memorable of weddings.
